

JAMES RIVER

Wall not pictured at actual size. Eagle Bay has attempted to represent our colors as accurately as possible, but variances will naturally occur as a result of the printing and manufacturing process. In all situations, we recommend viewing the actual product before choosing a color and ordering the product.

Selecting a wall color is one of the most important and exciting aspects of your design and Eagle Bay has perfected a collection of color blends so you don't have to compromise on style. Use this swatch page to determine which color matches your outdoor landscape style. For the most accurate color representation, visit your local Eagle Bay dealer to request a sample.
